No. B—4929 of 1909.

From

SURGEON-GENERAL H. W. STEVENSON, I. M. S.,
Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay, Poona;

To

THE SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
General Department, Bombay.

Office of the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay:
Poona, 24th May 1909.

Sir,

I have the honour to forward the Triennial Report on the Lunatic Asylums of the Bombay Presidency for the years 1906—1908.

2. During the three years under report considerable progress has been made in increasing and improving the accommodation for both patients and their attendants in the existing asylums of the Presidency. In the Narotamdas Madhavdas Lunatic Asylum at Naupáda (Thána), quarters for eight permanent warders and paving the ground to the rear of the buildings were completed during the year 1908, while quarters for the matron are nearing completion. At Ratnágiri quarters for the Junior Hospital Assistant, the clerk and three asylum servants as well as two cells for insanes were added to the asylum buildings, whilst a padded cell, an isolation block, two bath-rooms and quarters for two sweepers will shortly be completed. At Poona, bathing-places for male and female insanes were completed during the year. A cage latrine for the male day and night barracks was added in the Dhárwár Asylum, whilst a boundary wall for the asylum grounds is under construction. At Ahmedabad quarters for the menial staff (excepting those for sweepers which are nearing completion) were built and handed over by the Public Works Department, while the construction of 20 additional cells for criminal lunatics and certain other additions and alterations sanctioned by Government are in progress. At Hyderabad (Sind) a large convalescent yard with two wards for non-criminal insanes, a convalescent yard with one ward for criminal insanes and a convalescent yard with one ward and a small hospital for females, a bath-room, iron cage latrines to the barracks for night use and quarters for a second Hospital Assistant and for 11 warders have provided much needed accommodation and have tended much to the comfort and well-being of the insanes.

The buildings of the several asylums have been kept in good repair by the Public Works Department. The accommodation provided in the asylums is not yet sufficient for the needs of the Presidency and will require further increase. In two of the asylums only, i. e., those at Colába and Hyderabad (Sind), there was no overcrowding at any time during the triennium. This has already been brought to the notice of Government who have been pleased to call for plans and estimates for the further buildings required.

The erection of the new asylum at Yerávda is proceeding satisfactorily and will relieve the present tension largely, when it is ready for occupation; but certain local asylums will still require to be enlarged in order to cope with the continually increasing numbers of patients sent to them for treatment.

3. The water-supply at Colába was deficient during the months of April and May, but it is hoped that, with the laying down of new mains of larger size, which has been sanctioned by the Municipal Corporation, this long felt want will be supplied. The water-supply at the Ratnágiri Asylum is far from satisfactory, as the Municipality is only able to supply about 700 gallons daily, instead of 3,000—4,000 originally stipulated on. The matter is receiving attention.

4. The total number of insanes admitted and re-admitted into the asylums during the year 1908 was 302 males and 65 females as compared with 286 males and 65 females in 1907 and 326 males and 66 females in 1906, the average admissions and re-admissions during the three years under review being 305 males and 65 females against 299 males and 62 females in the previous triennium (1903—1905).

The total population of the asylums during the year 1908 was 1,326, as compared with 1,307 in 1907 and 1,287 in 1906. The mean population for the triennium 1906—1908 averaged 1,031 males and 276 females, showing an increase of 98 males and 42 females over the previous triennium (1903—1905).

The average increase in the number of lunatics at the Narotamdas Madhavdas Lunatic Asylum at Naupáda (Thána) during the three years 1906—1908, as compared with the preceding three years was 61, at the Sir Cowasji Jehangir Asylum, Hyderabad (Sind), 44, at Poona 21, Ratnágiri 13, Dhárwár 12 and Ahmedabad 9, whilst at Colába there was a decrease of 38 in the mean European population and an increase of 18 in the mean Native population of the asylum.

The daily average strength was 971·4, as compared with 955·5 in 1907 and 927·6 in 1906. The mean strength for the triennium 1906—1908 was 951·5 against 829·6 for the previous triennium 1903—1905.

Of the total confined, 133 males and 20 females were discharged cured, against 117 males and 23 females in 1907 and 90 males and 24 females in 1906, the mean number for the triennia 1906—1908 and 1903—1905 averaging 114 males and 22 females and 96 males and 19 females respectively. The percentage of cures to the daily average strength in 1908 was 17·6 males and 9·3 females as compared with 15·8 males and 10·8 females in 1907 and 12·6 males and 11·3 females in 1906, and the mean ratio for the three years 1906—1908 was 15·4 males and 10·4 females against 14·7 males and 10·7 females for the preceding three years (1903—1905). Those transferred to friends in an improved condition during 1908 numbered 62, as compared with 86 in 1907 and 62 in 1906. The average number for the three years (1906—1908) was 70 against 108 for the previous three years (1903—1905). Twenty-five insanes similarly disposed of are returned as "not improved" against 45 in 1907 and 78 in 1906, the mean number for the triennium under review being 50 as compared with 40 for the previous triennium (1903—1905).

The number of deaths rose from 61 in 1906 to 67 in 1907 and 86 in 1908, the average mortality for these three years being 71 against 59 for the preceding three years. The ratio per cent. of deaths to the daily average strength was 8·9 as compared with 7·0 in 1907 and 6·6 in 1906. The mean death-rate to the daily average strength during the triennium 1906—1908 was 7·5 against 7·1 for the previous triennium 1903—1905.

The subjoined table shows the ratio per cent. of mortality to the daily average strength at the several asylums during the two triennial periods, 1903—1905 and 1906—1908 :—

The health of the insanes was, on the whole, satisfactory, the daily average sick being 28·9 in 1908, as compared with 24·2 in 1907 and 26·1 in 1906, the mean of the triennia 1903—1905 and 1906—1908 being 26·5 and 26·4 respectively. The precentage of sickness to the daily average strength was 3·0 against 2·5 in 1907 and 2·8 in 1906, the average ratio for these three years being 2·8 as compared with 3·2 for the previous triennium 1903—1905.

The mean death-rate at the Narotamdas Madhavdas Lunatic Asylum, Naupáda (Thána), and at the Poona Lunatic Asylum, during the three years 1906—1908, was very low, as compared with the previous three years 1903—1905. At the Sir Cowasji Jehangir Lunatic Asylum at Hyderabad the ratio of deaths per cent. to the daily average strength has been greater during the year 1908 than during any preceding years since 1902, when it reached 20 per cent. In that year as in this, cholera prevailed in the asylum in common with the surrounding district. The manner in which the infection was actually introduced could not be ascertained, but it is possible that it was blown in the dust from the neighbouring roads and fields in or beside which cholera excreta had been evacuated. There were 15 cases of cholera with nine deaths. In this asylum malarial fevers, which have also been prevalent all over the district, assisted in increasing the death-rate. These fevers in insanes are commonly complicated by bowel lesions causing diarrhœa which is frequently fatal in persons already weakened by chronic nervous disease of various types. Though the death-rate at Ratnágiri for the year 1908 was lower than the two previous years, the average ratio for the triennium 1906—1908 was greater than that for the previous triennium (1903—1905), viz., 5·1 against 2·1, and the Superintendent of the Asylum reports that, with the exception of five deaths from dysentery which prevailed in 1907 as already brought to notice, these figures have no particular significance. At Dhárwár four deaths occurred among new admissions during the year 1908 which accounts for an increase in the death-rate over those of the previous years. The total percentage of deaths at Ahmedabad was very nearly the same during the three years under review, whilst the mean ratio thereof was higher than that of the previous three years (1903—1905), due to patients whose health at the time of admission into the asylum was in a more or less broken down condition.

5. The total number of criminal lunatics confined was 180 males and 20 females—total 200, as compared with 179 (males 156 and females 23) in 1907 and 189 (males 167 and females 22) in 1906. The mean population of this class of insanes was 168 males and 22 females during the triennial period under report, showing on an average an increase of 37 males and 3 females over the previous triennium 1903—1905. Their daily average strength was 151·9 against 138·6 in 1907 and 132·5 in 1906, the mean strength for these three years being 141·0, as compared with 113·7 for the previous three years 1903—1905.

6. Of the total admissions and re-admissions there were :—

During the triennium under review, mendicants formed on an average the largest number of admissions, followed by labourers, domestic servants, soldiers, merchants and traders, artisans, cultivators and clerks. On an average 54 cases had no occupation and in 40 cases it could not be ascertained.

7. The total number of insanes treated for the various types of insanity during the triennium under review, as compared with the mean of the previous one, and the results attained, are summarized in the subjoined table :—

8. Specific causes were assigned in 719 cases, or 54·2 per cent. as compared with 698 cases or 53·4 per cent. in 1907 and 706 cases or 54·9 per cent. in 1906. The mean ratio thereof for these three years was 54·2 against 54·1 for the previous three years.(1903—1905). Of the known causes, there were :—

	1908.	1907.	1906.	Average. 1906—08.	1903—05.
Physical	592	555	576	574	494
Moral	127	143	130	133	137

Of the physical causes, the use of intoxicating drugs and over-indulgence in spirituous liquors, previous attacks, hereditary predisposition, fever, epilepsy and mental trouble, accounted for most of the cases under confinement. The causes of insanity were unknown in 607 cases as compared with 609 and 581 cases respectively in 1907 and 1906, the mean number for these three years being 599 against 536 for the previous three years.

The following table shows the results of patients treated during the triennium under review as compared with the previous triennial period :—

	Total known.										Total unknown.

9. The receipts from paying patients rose from Rs. 22,336-0-2 in 1906 to Rs. 25,540-11-0 in 1907 and Rs. 25,593-14-0 in 1908, the average receipts for these three years being Rs. 24,490-3-1 as compared with Rs. 17,676-14-5 in the previous triennium 1903—05.

10. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 3,30,983-13-7 against Rs. 2,28,833-2-10 in 1907 and Rs. 1,97,345-2-2 in 1906. If the sums received from paying patients and from the sale of goods to the public, and those made over to the asylums for asylum purposes, &c., be deducted, the net cost would be Rs. 2,67,287-7-9, as compared with Rs. 1,65,902-14-0 and Rs. 1,42,165-3-10 in 1907 and 1906 respectively. The increase in 1908 is mainly attributable to the large amount spent on new works carried out by the Public Works Department, viz., Rs. 1,10,476-0-8 against Rs. 29,131-0-11 in 1907 and Rs. 13,745-8-11 in 1906. Excluding these Public Works Department charges, the net expenditure for the three years under review, as compared with the mean of the previous triennial period, will stand as under :—

		Rs.	a.	p.
1908	... ...	1,56,811	7	1
1907	... ...	1,36,771	13	1
1906	... ...	1,28,419	10	11
Average ... 1906—08	... ...	1,40,667	10	4
Average ... 1903—05	... ...	1,14,337	1	7

and the net cost per head of daily average strength would be Rs. 161-6-10 against Rs. 143-2-3 in 1907 and Rs. 138-7-1 in 1906, the mean for the triennial periods 1906—08 and 1903—05 being Rs. 147-13-5 and Rs. 137-13-2 respectively.

The establishment cost Rs. 77,876-8-9, or Rs. 8,708-2-8 and Rs. 15,634-4-9 more than in the years 1907 and 1906 respectively. The increased charges under this head are attributable to an increase of pay to asylum servants and the entertainment of additional establishment at all the asylums, the full effect of which is indicated in the figures for the year 1908, the mean cost for the triennium 1906—08 being Rs. 69,762-3-3 as compared with Rs. 55,234-10-2 for the previous three years 1903—05. The larger number of insanes treated during the year and the abnormal rise in the price of food-grains, &c., account for an increase in the expenditure on "diets" and "contingencies". Under the former head there was an increase of Rs. 10,269-0-5 and Rs. 13,334-8-4 and in the latter of Rs. 1,453-7-11 and Rs. 2,195-0-9 respectively over the years 1907 and 1906. The average cost on "diet" for the triennia 1903—05 and 1906—08 was Rs. 62,715-12-10 and Rs. 78,494-14-6, and that on "contingencies" was Rs. 11,884-3-4 and Rs. 13,778-14-7, respectively. The expenditure under the headings "Bedding and Clothing" and "Medicines" shows a slight increase over those of the two previous years, owing to the larger number of insanes treated during the year 1908.

11. Different forms of recreation and amusements are encouraged and provided for in all asylums. Insanes, who are able and willing to work, are employed in the factories attached to the institutions, in the gardens and in other extramural occupations. Rs. 2,178-12-5 were expended during the year 1908 for the amusements of insanes, as compared with Rs. 2,063-6-10 in 1907 and Rs. 1,779-9-11 in 1906, the average expenditure for the triennia 1903—05 and 1906—08 being Rs. 1,733-9-10 and Rs. 2,007-4-5 respectively.

12. The total receipts from the Manufacturing Department amounted to Rs. 5,276-6-10 and debits to Rs. 1,625-2-5, showing a profit of Rs. 3,651-4-5 in 1908 against Rs. 3,997-8-11 in 1907 and Rs. 3,242-6-3 in 1906, the mean profit for the triennial period 1906—08 being Rs. 3,630-6-6, or Rs. 827-4-4 more than for the preceding triennium 1903—05.

13. During the year 1908 the official visitors were regular in their attendance at all the asylums, excepting that at Ahmedabad the Assistant Collector of Sánand Táluka failed to attend the monthly meetings, though requested to do so by the Superintendent of the Asylum several times, nor did he provide a substitute as required by Government Resolution, General Department, No. 104, dated 12th January 1874.

14. The management of the different asylums of the Presidency during the triennium has been uniformly satisfactory, and the Superintendents individually and collectively appear to have done all in their power with the means at their command to alleviate the condition of the unfortunate people committed to their care.

Probably the greatest difficulty experienced by Superintendents is that of obtaining even tolerably useful men as warders for the asylums and they are practically unanimous in the opinion that the present rate of pay is too small to attract or retain men who are capable of really learning their duties and doing efficient work. The duties of a warder are monotonous and often most unpleasant, while the chances of rising to anything higher than an ordinary warder's pay are but slight. It can therefore hardly be a matter for surprise that the only men, who are willing to continue in the service, are those who are not good enough for anything else.

The whole question of the pay and status of asylum warders and servants requires consideration and re-adjustment and will form the subject of a separate representation to Government.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
H. W. STEVENSON, Surgeon-General, I. M. S.,
Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay.
